SUPPLEMENTAL PROSPECTUS IN RELATION TO SERIES 12 DATED 19 October 2026

This Supplemental Prospectus for Series 12 (the Prospectus) is supplemental to, forms part of and must be read and construed in conjunction with, the base prospectus dated 9 December 2019 (as updated and amended by supplemental prospectus no. 1 dated 21 September 2020, supplemental prospectus no. 2 dated 3 November 2020, supplemental prospectus no. 3 dated 16 June 2022 and supplemental prospectus no. 4 dated 3 December 2023, supplemental prospectus no. 5 dated 19 December 2024, supplemental prospectus no. 6 dated 26 May 2025, supplemental prospectus no. 7 dated 16 December 2025 and supplemental prospectus no. 8 dated 4 June 2026) (all of which shall be referred to hereinafter as the Base Prospectus) prepared by Oman Sovereign Sukuk Company S.A.O.C. (the Issuer or the Trustee) and the Government of the Sultanate of Oman represented by the Ministry of Finance (the Obligor or the Government) in connection with the Trustee's Omani Rial Sukuk Issuance Programme (the Programme) for the issuance of trust certificates thereunder.

Pursuant to the Public Debt Law, the Minister of Finance of the Sultanate of Oman shall, amongst others, have exclusive discretion to issue any public debt instruments for and on behalf of the Government without complying with the provisions of the Securities Law promulgated by Royal Decree No. 46/2022 (Securities Law). As such, approval from the FSA is not required for any issuances under the Programme and the Company is not obliged to prepare documents in Arabic.

The purpose of this Prospectus is to update and, where required, amend the disclosure in the Base Prospectus to disclose certain material developments in respect of the Sultanate of Oman and the Government since the date of issuance of the Base Prospectus, including the current issuance as set out in this Prospectus.

Terms defined in the Base Prospectus shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the same meaning when used in this Prospectus.

The issue of Series 12 OMR 100,000,000 trust certificates (subject to the exercise of a green shoe option to increase the issuance size up to OMR 150,000,000) due 2033 (the Trust Certificates), will be constituted by:

- (i) a master declaration of trust (the Master Declaration of Trust) dated 9 December 2019 entered into between the Trustee, the Obligor and Muscat Clearing and Depository S.A.O.C. (MCD) as agent for and on behalf of the holders of the Trust Certificates (the Certificateholders) (in such capacity, the Certificateholders' Agent); and
- (ii) a supplemental declaration of trust dated on or around 25 October 2026 (the Supplemental Declaration of Trust and, together with the Master Declaration of Trust, the Declaration of Trust) in relation to the Trust Certificates.

Pursuant to the Declaration of Trust, and subject to the conditions governing the Trust Certificates set out in the Base Prospectus (the Conditions) and the Final Terms which, for the avoidance of doubt, complete the Conditions, the Trustee in its capacity as the Trustee for and on behalf of the Certificateholders will hold the Trust Assets and all rights, benefits and interests relating thereto, on trust for the benefit of the Certificateholders.

Periodic Distributions

Periodic Distribution Amounts shall be payable subject to, and in accordance with, the Conditions on the outstanding face amount of the Trust Certificates from (and including) the Issue Date to (but excluding) 29 October 2033 (the Scheduled Dissolution Date) at a profit rate of 4.85% per cent. per annum, on an Actual / 365 basis.

Taxation

Pursuant to Condition 12 of the Base Prospectus, all payments in respect of the Trust Certificates shall be made without set-off or counterclaim of any kind and free and clear of, and without withholding or deduction for, any Taxes of whatever nature imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed by or within the Relevant Jurisdiction or any authority therein or thereof having power to tax, unless the withholding or deduction is required by law. In that event, the Trustee shall pay such additional amounts as will result in receipt by the Certificateholders of such amounts as would have been received by them had no such withholding or deduction been required, except that no such additional amount shall be payable in respect of any Trust Certificate held by or on behalf of a holder who is liable for such Taxes in respect of such Trust Certificate by reason of having some connection with the Relevant Jurisdiction other than the mere holding of the Trust Certificates.

Redemption of Trust Certificates

The Trust Certificates will be redeemed on the Scheduled Dissolution Date but may also be redeemed before the Scheduled Dissolution Date in accordance with Condition 10 of the Base Prospectus.

The Trust Certificates are Limited Recourse Obligations of the Trustee

The Trust Certificates are not debt obligations of the Trustee. Recourse to the Trustee in respect of the Trust Certificates is limited to the Trust Assets and the proceeds of such Trust Assets are the sole source of payments on the Trust Certificates. Upon the occurrence of a Dissolution Event or early dissolution pursuant to Condition 10 of the Base Prospectus, the sole rights of each of the Trustee, the Certificateholders' Agent and, in certain limited circumstances, the Certificateholders will be against the Trustee and the Government, as applicable, to perform their respective obligations under the Transaction Documents.

In accordance with Condition 4.3 of the Base Prospectus, the Trustee and the Certificateholders' Agent (as well as the Certificateholders in the circumstances described in Condition 15.3) will have direct recourse against the Government to recover payments due to the Trustee or the Certificateholders' Agent from the Government pursuant to such Transaction Documents (such payments forming part of the Trust Assets, in a manner that does not contradict with Article 156 of the Commercial Companies Law promulgated by Royal Decree No. 18/2019 (the Commercial Companies Law), as amended, notwithstanding any other provisions of the Conditions.

Furthermore, under no circumstances shall the Trustee, the Certificateholders' Agent or any Certificateholder have any right to cause the sale or other disposition of any of the Trust Assets except as otherwise expressly provided in the Transaction Documents and the Conditions.

Listing

Application will be made to the Muscat Stock Exchange (MSX) for listing and trading of the Trust Certificates on the Bond and Sukuk Market of the MSX.

An investment in the Trust Certificates involves certain risks. For a discussion of the principal risk factors that may affect the ability of the Trustee to fulfil its obligations under the Trust Certificates and the relevant mitigating measures, see "Risk Factors" in the Base Prospectus and in this Prospectus.

3. RISK FACTORS

(a) Risks relating to Oman’s economy being significantly affected by volatility in international oil prices

The risk factor titled “Oman’s economy is significantly affected by volatility in international oil prices” under the “Risk Factors” section of the Base Prospectus shall be replaced with the following:

“Although the Government has sought to promote the growth of the non-oil sector, Government revenues remain significantly dependent on oil revenues. The oil sector accounted for 27.9% of the Sultanate of Oman’s nominal GDP in 2018, 26.3% in 2019, 21.4% in 2020, 27.1% in 2021, 34.8% in 2022, 31.3% in 2023, 29.2% in 2024, 25.4% in 2025 and 28.7% in the six months ended 30 June 2026, with the variations principally reflecting changes in oil prices. The Sultanate of Oman’s economy has in the past been adversely affected by periods of low international oil prices, including the period from mid-2014 to early 2016 and for most of 2020. Future periods of prolonged low oil prices may lead to a widening in the fiscal deficit and adversely impact Oman’s sovereign credit rating, as well as its borrowing costs. In addition, any deterioration in the health of Oman’s banking sector could also lead to a weakening in the sovereign credit profile and the Government’s deposits in the banking sector may be difficult to realise at times of prolonged low oil prices without causing disruption in domestic banks’ funding requirements.

While the Sultanate of Oman has in the past increased oil exports in periods of prolonged down-turns in the oil price, and retains some capacity to do so in the short and medium term, as the Sultanate of Oman’s fields are generally considered to be fairly mature, such a solution may not prove viable if oil prices were to continue to be depressed for a prolonged period. Furthermore, as a member of the OPEC+ alliance,

³ MoF/ Banks to confirm.

Oman's ability to increase oil production is subject to its OPEC commitments. In addition, future growth in reserves is generally expected to be limited to successful implementation of enhanced oil recovery techniques. As a result, if there is any failure to make use of such techniques, or if such techniques prove excessively costly (particularly in the context of low oil prices) or fail to help grow oil and gas reserves, a long-term slowdown in oil production may become more likely.

Additional factors, such as the price and availability of new technologies, including renewable energy and unconventional oil and gas extraction methods, global economic and political conditions, the impact of pandemic diseases, and other relevant conditions, have an indirect impact on oil demand and oil prices in the Sultanate of Oman and globally.”

(b) Risks relating to the effect of the volatility in international oil prices on the Funds of the Trustee/Public Funds of the Government

The risk factor titled “Volatility in international oil prices may materially adversely affect the Funds of the Trustee/Public Funds of the Government” under the “Risk Factors” section of the Base Prospectus shall be replaced with the following:

“While the Government has actively aimed to stimulate the expansion of the non-oil sector, its revenues still display a notable reliance on oil-generated income. This dependency is particularly evident in the contribution of petroleum industrial activities, with petroleum industrial activities (i.e., crude petroleum and natural gas industrial activities) accounting for 68.2%, 73.6%, 77.2%, 71.9%, 72.6% and 70.0% of total revenues for 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024 and 2025, respectively. The eleventh five-year plan for the period 2026 to 2030 constitutes the second executive phase of Vision 2040. The objectives included in the eleventh five-year plan are to: (i) build a diversified and sustainable economy; (ii) gradually transition to a low-carbon economy and promote environmental sustainability; (iii) promote economic decentralisation across governorates; (iv) enhance labour market efficiency and effectiveness; (v) advance socially sustainable development; and (vi) strengthen institutional governance and operational efficiency.

The strategic objectives of the plan were formulated within a comprehensive framework aligned with the pillars of Oman Vision 2040, with the aim of accelerating economic growth and strengthening sustainability across priority sectors (manufacturing, tourism, and digital economy) with high growth potential, job creation capacity and significant contributions to GDP. The plan builds on previous development achievements while adopting a forward-looking approach grounded in an analysis of local, regional, and global trends, aimed at enhancing resilience to emerging challenges and maximising the effective utilisation of available opportunities. However, Oman’s other economic sectors remain, in part, dependent on the oil and gas sector. Whilst this dependence is being addressed as part of the Government’s Medium Term Fiscal Plan (MTFP), the implementation of changes to diversify Oman’s economy will take time. Government expenditures for the time being remain affected by fluctuations in the oil prices. Budgetary pressures caused by lower oil price environments may continue, resulting in larger deficit financing needs. This, in turn, impacts many sectors of the economy, including, in particular, the construction sector, to the extent that large building projects must be delayed or cancelled. In addition, ancillary industrial activities related to oil and gas exploration and production are also negatively affected by low oil prices.

Furthermore, sectors that are dependent on household consumption, including education, transport and housing, may be adversely affected by lower levels of economic activity that may result from lower Government revenue from oil and gas production. If Oman does not decrease public expenditure (or increase non-oil revenues), an environment of prolonged low oil prices may lead to a further widening in the fiscal deficit and adversely impact Oman's sovereign credit rating, as well as its borrowing costs."

(c) Risks relating to Oman's sovereign credit ratings being subject to revision and downgrade

The risk factor titled "Oman's sovereign credit ratings are subject to revision and downgrade" under the "Risk Factors" section of the Base Prospectus shall be replaced with the following:

"The Sultanate of Oman's rating was upgraded by Fitch Ratings on 8 December 2025 from 'BB+' to 'BBB-', with the outlook set to Stable. The upgrade reflects the material strengthening of Oman's fiscal and economic indicators over recent years, including improved budgetary performance, reduced external financing pressures, and the Government's ongoing implementation of fiscal consolidation measures supported by favourable oil price dynamics. On 11 July 2025, Moody's Investors Service upgraded the Sultanate of Oman's long-term issuer rating from 'Ba1' to 'Baa3' and assigned a Stable outlook. Moody's stated that the upgrade reflects the sustained improvement in Oman's fiscal position, driven primarily by a material reduction in the Government's debt burden, which declined to around 35.5 per cent. of GDP by the end of 2024, and by continued fiscal consolidation efforts that have enhanced resilience to oil-price fluctuations. S&P Global Ratings affirmed the Sultanate of Oman's long-term sovereign credit rating at 'BBB-' with a Stable outlook on 25 September 2026.

Any future negative ratings action, including downgrades, negative changes in outlook or any withdrawal at any time of a credit rating assigned to the Sultanate of Oman by any rating agency, could have a material adverse effect on its cost of borrowing and could limit its access to debt capital markets. Negative ratings actions may also adversely affect the market price of the Trust Certificates and cause trading in the Trust Certificates to be volatile. Furthermore, negative ratings actions may also have an effect on the Sultanate of Oman's ability to raise financing at attractive levels or at all, which in turn may put greater pressure on the Government to obtain alternative sources of funding. Whilst the Government is continuing to monitor and manage the risk of further credit ratings downgrades or negative changes in outlook, there can be no assurance that its efforts in this respect will be sufficient or successful.

The Sultanate of Oman cannot be certain that a credit rating will remain for any given period of time or that a credit rating will not be affirmed or withdrawn entirely by the relevant rating agency if, in its judgement, circumstances in the future so warrant. The Sultanate of Oman has no obligation to inform Certificateholders of any such revision, downgrade or withdrawal."

(d) Risks relating to Oman's large deficit and increasing indebtedness

The risk factor titled "Oman has historically had a large deficit and increasing indebtedness" under the "Risk Factors" section of the Base Prospectus shall be replaced with the following:

This Document is classified as Official Use

“The Sultanate of Oman has experienced a period of significant fiscal deficits and increasing indebtedness.

While Oman’s Government revenue, and particularly its oil revenue, has declined in the past during periods of lower oil prices, Government spending has generally been stable, historically resulting in large fiscal deficits. Oman’s budget deficits were OMR 4.4 billion in 2020 and OMR 0.7 billion in 2021. Oman recorded a budget surplus of OMR 2.9 billion in 2022 and OMR 2.4 billion in 2023 and OMR 1.0 billion in 2024. In 2025, Oman recorded a budget deficit of OMR 0.3 billion, primarily reflecting an increase in capital expenditure. Oman’s budget deficit represented 15.4% of nominal GDP in 2020 and 2.0% of nominal GDP in 2021 and its surplus represented 6.8% of nominal GDP in 2022, 5.8% of nominal GDP in 2023, 2.2% of nominal GDP in 2024 and 0.6% of nominal GDP in 2025. The increase in the deficit in 2020 in both absolute terms and as a percentage of GDP principally reflected lower oil prices during the COVID-19 pandemic. The reduction of the deficit in 2021 principally reflected improved oil prices and, to a lesser extent, lower expenditure compared to 2020. In 2022 and 2023, significantly higher oil prices, offset to a limited extent by higher expenditure, resulted in budget surpluses. While a surplus was recorded in 2024, it decreased as compared to 2023 reflecting the decline in oil production and oil prices during 2024. Oman continues to build on its record of fiscal prudence. Oman reduced its government debt to around 35% of GDP in 2025 from 68% in 2020. The total outstanding Government debt was OMR 19.8 billion as at 31 December 2020 and OMR 20.8 billion as at 31 December 2021. Oman’s total outstanding Government debt decreased in 2022, 2023 and 2024, to OMR 17.6 billion, OMR 15.3 billion and OMR 14.6 billion, respectively. As at 31 December 2025, Oman’s total outstanding Government debt was OMR 14.6 billion. Oman’s total Government debt-to-nominal GDP ratio was 67.9% as at 31 December 2020, 61.9% as at 31 December 2021, 41.7% as at 31 December 2022, 37.4% as at 31 December 2023, 35.5% as at 31 December 2024 and 34.6% as at 31 December 2025. Any high deficits in the future will expose Oman to high debt service costs and may have an adverse effect on its ratings. See the risk factor titled “Oman’s sovereign credit ratings are subject to revision and downgrade.”

(e) Risks relating to refinancing risks⁴

The risk factor titled “Oman faces certain refinancing risks” under the “Risk Factors” section of the Base Prospectus shall be replaced with the following:

“Oman’s domestic debt fell by OMR 0.9 billion in 2022 and external debt by OMR 2.3 billion on strong hydrocarbon revenue. The government repaid a maturing USD 1.25 billion Eurobond in January 2023, prepaid USD 1.5 billion of a USD 4.0 billion facility in March 2023, USD 1.5 billion Sukuk in October 2025 and USD 2.1 billion Eurobond in June 2026. Oman has significantly reduced its debt since the COVID-19 pandemic. Oman’s total public debt increased from OMR 19,818 million as at 31 December 2020 to OMR 20,774 million as at 31 December 2021 before reducing to OMR 14,588 million as at 31 December 2025 and 14,159 million as at 30 June 2026, with its external debt increasing from OMR 14,710 million as at 31 December 2020 to OMR 15,592 million as at 31 December 2021 before reducing to OMR 9,550 million as at 31 December 2025, and 9.166 million as at 30 June 2026, and its domestic debt increasing from OMR 5,109 million as at 31 December 2020 to OMR 5,182 million as at 31 December 2021 before reducing to OMR 5,038 million as at 31 December 2025 and 4,993 million as at 30 June 2026. Oman's debt servicing costs have increased materially since 2018, but began to decrease in 2023.

Oman faces significant debt maturities in the coming years, with OMR 856 million, OMR 1,206 million and OMR 980 million in external debt due in 2026, 2027 and 2028, respectively, and OMR 786 million, OMR 612 million and OMR 603 million in domestic debt due in 2026, 2027 and 2028, respectively, in each case based on outstanding debt as at 31 December 2025.

Lower external debt has eased external liquidity risk, although debt repayments prevented accumulation of foreign assets. Oman's cover ratio in terms of current account payments decreased to 3.2 months in 2024, from 3.3 months in 2023.

Due to liquidity constraints in the Omani banking system, domestic funding may become less accessible to the government and therefore Oman may require additional recourse to external funding. The Government is seeking to grow the domestic capital market in Oman, but it is currently underdeveloped, which increases the Sultanate's reliance on external funding. The Government's ability to finance or refinance the public debt depends, in part, on the ability and willingness of Omani banks to purchase securities and other credit instruments issued by the Government.

Any significant future borrowings, including the further issuance of domestic debt or the issuance of external debt on the international capital markets, or pressure on Oman to support state owned enterprise borrowings, could increase the risk of default on Oman's external debt, and a failure to carefully manage its debt strategy could result in unsustainable debt levels which could materially adversely affect Oman's ability to perform its obligations under the Trust Certificates."

5. THE ECONOMY OF THE SULTANATE OF OMAN

The sub-section section titled "Credit Rating" under the section titled "The Economy of Oman" of the Base Prospectus shall be replaced with the following:

"Credit Rating"

- (a) S&P Global Ratings affirmed the Sultanate of Oman's long-term sovereign credit rating at 'BBB-' with a Stable outlook on 25 September 2026. S&P noted that the Stable outlook reflects its assessment that Oman's fiscal and external buffers—which include liquid government assets in excess of 40% of GDP and gross foreign currency reserves of close to 20% of GDP—will support the sovereign against adverse geopolitical developments, except under a scenario of a prolonged escalation of attacks by Iran on Oman's energy and civilian infrastructure. According to S&P's projections, Oman is expected to record fiscal surpluses of approximately 4.8 per cent of GDP in 2026 and 2.2 per cent in 2027, followed by a broadly balanced fiscal position in 2028–2029.

Moody's Investors Service upgraded the Sultanate of Oman's long-term issuer rating to Baa3 with a Stable outlook on 11 July 2025. This upgrade followed a prior upgrade from Ba2 to Ba1 in December 2023 and an outlook change to Positive in August 2024. Moody's stated that the July 2025 upgrade reflects the sustained strengthening of Oman's fiscal position, underpinned by a material reduction in the Government's debt burden and ongoing fiscal consolidation efforts that have increased resilience to oil-price volatility. According to Moody's, Oman's public debt declined to around 35.5 per cent. of GDP by end-2024, supported by successive fiscal surpluses and disciplined expenditure management. The agency noted that continued efforts to contain spending, improve non-oil revenues and manage exposure to hydrocarbon market fluctuations have enhanced the Government's balance-sheet flexibility and reduced refinancing risks.

Fitch Ratings upgraded the Sultanate of Oman's long-term issuer rating to 'BBB-' with a Stable outlook on 8 December 2025. Fitch stated that the upgrade reflects the sustained strengthening of Oman's fiscal and economic indicators, including a significant reduction in public debt—to around 36 per cent. of GDP in 2025—and continued fiscal consolidation efforts that have lowered external financing pressures. Fitch also noted that Oman is expected to maintain moderate fiscal deficits over the medium term, supported by improved non-oil economic activity, while remaining structurally exposed to fluctuations in hydrocarbon markets."
